Robert Hoover, East Palo Alto's community organizer and Mrs. Syrtiller Kabat had been elected to the Ravenswood elementary school board.

It is appropriate at this time to examine the School Board race and what the Hoover-Kabat victory meant.

East Palo Alto is a community in transition. It is demanding that the of this community, "Go ahead and do what you damn well please, we really don't care." But most of all it would have murdered the faith and hope of every kid in this community. And it would have meant that the people of East Palo Alto have decided that there was really no use, and no confidence existed in the leadership of this community. The present school system in epa would have been considered acceptable and no change desirable.

But defeat did not come, victory came! And with it a new hope, a new pride, and a new trust and confidence from the kids.

THE BECKS REPORT

There have been two events in the last few days that demonstrated the getting together of the people in the community:

1. The Junior Chamber of Commerce had a smashing carnival.
2. Robert Hoover and Syrtiller Kabat had a very exciting street party with great live music.

The above events were mentioned because they are samples of what is being talked about in the community as the "End of Spring Happening"--the "Juneteenth Split"--you name it.

Many different individuals and organization: ECCO, Committee of the Poor, OICW, INFO, CAC, JC's-- you name them--they are involved at some level in discussion and planning this event.

What is the nature of the affair? 1) General parade East of Bayshore? 2) Coronation of Miss East of Bayshore? You name her or the process.

Four days of fun, music, and food... All of the local bands and some outsiders are invited to participate. All organizations "must" be involved. Each organization, church, etc. will have a booth. It is hoped that an area can be found where the streets can be blocked off to allow for street dancing, etc. Nobody will attempt to convince anybody of anything. People will just get together as brothers and sisters and enjoy themselves. You will be able to meet those you have missed for some time -- make new friends and renew old friendships.

If you have not brought this matter up in any of your meetings, do so at once. If the above-mentioned program gripes you at all, call me, 322-1817: or contact the Gazette, ECCO, the JC's or whatever organization you belong to. Get with it now!

REHERSAL OF 300 VOICE CHOIR

The first rehearsal of the 300 voice community choir will be held Saturday night at St. John Baptist Church at 8pm. The choir will give a benefit concert for the East Palo Alto Day School.

The choir will consist of choirs from all churches in the community. Anyone and everyone is welcome to come and sing. There will be only three rehearsals.

Choir Director Joshua Campbell and Coordinator Mary McClure stated,

"Won't you become a believer (that our children can learn) and join us in a great fund-raising drive for the Day School, Sunday, May 7, 1967 when at 3pm we will present an Evening of Music, in which we will present a 300-voice community choir composed of all choirs from all churches of the East Palo Alto - East Menlo Park area?"

Muhammad Ali's Fight Political

LAS VEGAS, Nevada - As my wife and I drove along the strip here I quickly took notice of a billboard between the Dunes Hotel and Caesar's Palace off the desert road - "Muhammad Ali vs Floyd Patterson, April 25."

I thought to myself how much money had been spent for the promotion of the fight and to have the Governor of the state of Nevada appoint himself judge as to the merits of having the fight in Vegas and to say no, not only angering many business men but upsetting a lot of little people.

Listening to a television show last Sunday I found out just how some of the people felt.

"I believe in the Constitution of the United States and when one man sets himself up as a dictator it upsets me," one man said.

He went on to say that in his humble opinion "and I can have an opinion," the honorable Governor was wrong for cancelling the fight.

The Governor has said the fight would give the state a "black eye."

HOW THE ELECTION

Bob Hoover and Syrtiller Kabat won seats on the Ravenswood City School District Board of Trustees last Tuesday by upsetting incumbents Dr. Charlotte Roden and Leon Shiells; James Wilmore ran a distant fifth.

Final tallies show Hoover, 1165; Kabat, 1053; Shiells, 970; Roden, 938; and Wilmore, 299.

The vote was distributed roughly as expected with Hoover-Kabat running strong in the precincts East of Bayshore while Shiells and Roden ran strong in the West of Bayshore precincts. The difference was a strong turnout East of Bayshore. The East-West breakdown follows:

	East	West	Off.	total
Hoover	987	172		1165
Kabat	914	173		1053
Shiells	365	610		970
Roden	387	552		938
Wilmore	192	98		299
Total:	2845	1605		4425
voters:	1422	802		2212

UPWARD BOUND FUNDED OVER CAC OBJECTIONS

In a surprise move last week the OEO (federal War on Poverty commission) approved funds for the Stanford Upward Bound. This came on the heels of a statement by George Riley, Human Resources Commission director, that the HRC and the OEO would not think of funding a program that the community did not support.

The Community Action Council, composed of all East Bayshore residents attending, made it clear

The number of voters is nearly 6 to 1 in favor of Hoover and Kabat. This fine vote shows that when given a meaningful choice, Afro-American citizens can be as politically active and aware as any other people.

The victory for Hoover and Kabat can be attributed to the large turnout East of Bayshore and to the small extent that Wilmore split the East Bayshore vote. Although there are many more residents East than West, the number of registered voters in the East precincts is only slightly greater than those of the West due to a much younger population in the East among other factors. Despite the rain a fine percentage of concerned East Bayshore citizens turned out to vote. The residents of Belle Haven, especially, achieved a fine voting record. They doubled the percentage of registered voters voting from the last school board election and returned votes

THE VICTORY PARTY

Exhausted campaign workers gathered joyfully together last Tuesday night at Syrtiller Kabat's home to relax and celebrate the outstanding victory won by Hoover-Kabat and all those who worked for them.

Mrs. Kabat spoke to the throng of cheering participants,

"The important thing to see is that this was an entire community project. The bulk of the community moved behind education. At 12am tomorrow we will be picketing MA high school because we believe in quality education and they are not receiving it there.

Many people worked so hard for us. It wasn't the great candidates but the great people working for us who got us elected."

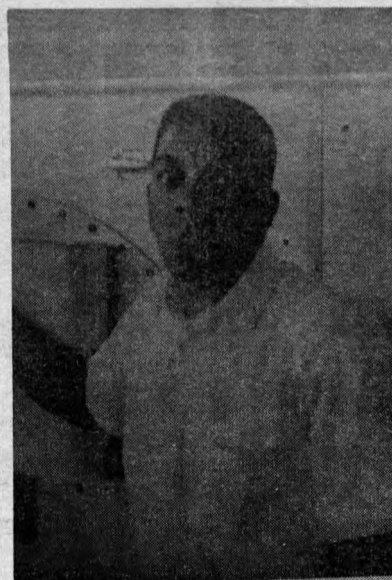

Mr. Hoover in his victory talk said, "This is unbelievable for me. The four precincts we worked turned out just like we hoped. People say you can't make black kids do this tory."

Sixty YUC kids worked their tails off for a month and a half. And we didn't have to force them at all. They always wanted to do more. You can tell me all about this remedial study but this shows that you can motivate kids if you really want to. The campaign also showed that the community will get involved if they understand the issues. I'm going to write Stokely Carmichael tomorrow, he won't believe it: a District split even black and white three black candidates running for two seats against two white candidates and we win a smashing victory.

EAST PALO ALTO YOUTH BOARD TELLS KIDS TO STOP POLITICAL ACTIVITY or GET OUT of BUILDING

Incumbents John Cost and Helen Kerwin were returned to their seats on the Sequoia High School District Board of Trustees in the election Tuesday.

In the voiting District, which includes all of East Palo Alto and East Menlo Park, the voiting went as follows: Cost, 9906; Kerwin, 8075; Col. Vause, 7656; Dorothy Gay, 6898; Mier, 3442; and DeMause, 1708.

As shown, Mrs. Kerwin was followed closely by Col. Vause who stated that he was strongly in favor of building another lily-white, foothill, high school right now and that he was in favor of efficiency and against taxes. Dr. Mier, who was supported by some East Bayshore people, ran a rather distant fifth but it may have been his votes that kept the Colonel from overtaking Helen Kerwin.

The rumor persists that campaign HQ and Bob Hoover and his youth group (YUC) have been kicked out of their quarters at Bay Road and University by the East Palo Alto Youth Board.

The Youth Board became concerned about the use of the building as a political headquarters for the Hoover-Kabat school campaign, but that was not all.

Mrs. Kerwin has shown some sympathy toward the problems of de-facto segregation and quality education at Ravenswood.

In the election for College of San Mateo Trustees all the incumbents were returned. They are U.S. Simons Jr., Carl Ward and Eleanor Nettle.

It is difficult to believe that with all of the political activity going on from that office corner almost daily by the press and evidenced by the programs the kids themselves undertook, the Youth Board had no knowledge of who was supposed to be in the building and what they were doing there. Secondly, if the Youth Board feels that all the kids of this town needs is a place to do the "hully-gully" and if that is all the Board is willing to

There is also a glass industry to satisfy the country's bottling needs, and later the plant can manufacture plate glass. Both plants use local raw materials, and the cement factory uses fuel from the Tanzanian refinery. British aid was stopped when Tanzania broke off diplomatic relations after the British failed to unseat the racist rebel regime of Ian Smith in Southern Rhodesia. West Germnay cut off its aid program because Tanzania recognized East Germany; and United States aid was withdrawn, in 1964, when the Tanzanian Government exposed a plot to interfere in the country's internal affairs.

An example of how well the country has been led by President Nyerere and the Tanzanian African National Union (TANU), the country's one party, is indicated in its export-import reports and its balance of trade.

REVIEW

'MONTH IN THE COUNTRY

Turgenev's "Month in the Country" opened at the Manhattan Playhouse last Friday night here in East Palo Alto. The scene is Russia in the early 1840's, but restricted to a very narrow part of Russian life: that of the aristocracy. The story revolves around Natalia Petrovna, played by Jaqueline Ames. It is the story of her loves and affairs with Raketen (played by Mark Smith), a friend of her husband; and Beliaev (Bruce Mangan) a 20 year old man she hired to tutor her son. Translated to today's America the story somewhat resembled a rather well done "soap opera."

The cunningly domineering way Natalia tried to manipulate the love of the two men while not alienating her husband revealed the purposelessness of the life of her society. It is only through gaining power over the lives of others (including her tender ward and rival for the love of Beliaev) that she is able to gain meaning for her own life.

The play will run Fridays and Saturdays through May. For tickets or information call the Playhouse (2034 Manhttan Avenue) at 322-4589.

U.N. REPORT

By CHARLES P. HOWARD, SR.
(HNS) UN and Foreign Correspondent

Through its governing political party, the Tanzania African National Union (TANU), the people of Tanzania on last February sixth announced a new course that will lead their country to complete independence, self-reliance, democracy and socialism. This means that white neo-colonialists will have one less African country in which to exploit resources and people.

The TANU declaration of February 6, 1967 said the government had the responsibility "to intervene actively in the economic life of the nation so as to insure the well-being of all its citizens and so as to prevent the accumulation of wealth to an extent which is consistent with the existence of a classless society." TANU, under the leadership of Tanzanian President Mwalimu Julius K. Nyerere, said one of Tanzania's objectives was government "control over the principal means of production" and that it "pursues policies which facilitate the way to collective ownership of the resources of this country."

The TANU statement, known as the "Arusha Declaration," was sub-titled "TANU's Policy on Socialism and Self-Reliance." According to this declaration, "Tanzania is a state of Peasants and Workers," not yet a socialist state, but a state in process of ridding itself of "elements of capitalism and feudalism and their temptations."

It should be pointed out that the Declaration's Program was placed entirely within the context of African and Tanzanian conditions and traditions, but at the same time its content and tone was sharp and clear in emphasizing that Tanzania would have to truck with capitalism; that it would not join in a partnership with its former exploiters by burdening itself with debts and foreign investments; it would not turn its government into a collection agency for neo-colonialists.

Simultaneously with the issuance of the Declaration President Nyerere announced that all banks, except a bank run by a Tanzanian cooperative, would be nationalized, along with the main export-import firms and an insurance company. In the case of import manufacturing companies, President Nyerere said that the Government "intends to hold a controlling share" in these. Included in this group are breweries, the British-American Tobacco Company, Bata Shoe Company, an extract company and a firm manufacturing metal boxes. The Government will also "secure a controlling interest" in the sisal industry, the country's principal agricultural export, through becoming a senior partner in companies comprising the industry.

The Government already owns "the land, forests, mineral resources, water, electricity, posts, telecommunications, radio, railways and other public utilities. TANU and the Government of Tanzania are not promising "pie in the sky" to the people. Very carefully the Government has guided the economy of the country into a position where self-sufficiency in food and clothing is guaranteed in 1968. The clothing will be provided by a complete textile Nobody looks down on a man with a good education. People respect him. They treat him right because they know he's got what it takes. You know it. Everybody knows it. A good education always shows. And so does a small education. Which will you have?

Remember: respect is only one of the things a good education gets you. It can also get you a good job. A good salary. And a real chance to enjoy more of the good things in life.

So if you're in school now . . . stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. It can really make a difference. If you're out of school, don't give up. You can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. And it's well worth the effort.
