Raíces de México is a non-profit cultural educational corporation dedicated to the instruction and performance of Mexican regional dance. Based in East Palo Alto since the fall of 1980, Raíces de México is the only Mexican dance school of its kind, featuring the only childrens' ensemble, in San Mateo County. We perform for inaugurations, fund raisers, school programs, civic affairs, independence celebrations, etc.

Raíces de México is not City, nor County funded, it relies mostly on performance fees, student tuitions and community contributions. All and any donations made to Raíces de México are tax deductible. New students are always welcomed. We are always scouting for interested parties to join our Board of Directors to help build a strong grassroots cultural organization.

Raíces de México sincerely and with appreciation acknowledges the following sponsor, for their support, in part:

The Page Foundation

A Special thanks is extended to YOU the audience for your attention, interest and support of our culture.

GRACIAS!

Our sincere thanks to Maestro Martin Cruz Barajas who taught the children Dances from the Revolution and Sinaloa, and also to Luis Cel who was able to take over when Maestro Cruz left.
