in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving.

Men are never so likely to settle a question as when they discuss it freely.

BLACK HISTORY WEEK

Painting a "Wall of Respect", viewing films, competing in a "Do-Nut Quiz", and involvement of blacks from all over California, combined to make Black History Week a unique and diverse experience for Ravenswood students.

Including a visit from State Superintendent of Schools, Wilson Riles, a crafts fair, a soul food luncheon, and an African dress contest, the week showed ingenuity and innovative thinking on the part of the black staff members who coordinated it. The activities encouraged both black and white students to be involved.
